Welcome....

This area has an indigenous history that goes back thousands of years, centered around the Shoalhaven River.

Silos Estate is located north of that river, on the traditional lands of the Dharawal people (and its speakers), of the Yuin nation.

European settlement dates to the 1830s; while the property of Silos Estate was established in 1870. In the intervening (over) 150 years it has been used for market farming, livestock, dairy farming and more recently as a vineyard

Silos Estate has been a family owned business since 2007, with the original dairy farm gradually being restored. Silos Kitchen itself is the old hay shed, with the Estate taking its name from the over 120 year old silos that were used for silage. Today those silos house a wine cellar and private dining room.

Under the guidance of Head Chef Rory Finn, Silos Kitchen showcases the Estates wines and a seasonally changing menu, featuring local produce as well as items grown and foraged on the Estate.
